British Seagull started in 1931 and amazingly enough it's still going strong and in British hands - almost unique! For its time the original engine was very advanced, a good proportion of the original engines are still running and parts are generally still available to keep them that way - a truly unique engine, a magnificent piece of British engineering and ingenuity.

The British Seagull was a British manufacturer of two-stroke outboard engines in Poole, Dorset from the early 1930s until the mid-1990s. Although their "Classic" engines were for decades an exemplar of rugged simplicity and reliability, the company eventually failed when customer tastes changed and as tighter emissions regulations took effect.
